

2019 IAS CMD WIE Travel Grant

The Industry Application Society (IAS) Chapter & Membership Department (CMD) Women in Engineering (WIE) subcommittee is providing travel support for IAS members to attend local WIE International Leadership Summits (ILSs). The travel support is provided for both students and professionals. The travel award will cover part of the costs incurred by the recipient to attend a local Leadership Summit within their region. IAS members from around the world are encouraged to apply.

More information regarding the Leadership Summits can be found on the IEEE WIE website below:

<https://wie.ieee.org/leadership-summits2019/>

Please consider the following important information before applying:

- The application process is the same for all types of attendees.
- The WIE Travel grant is intended to “partially” cover the cost of attending and participating in a local WIE ILS 2019 event. The only expenses that can be reimbursed are the following:
 - Airfare and ground transportation costs
 - Hotel/Accommodation costs
 - Conference registration fees
- Note that the award recipients will need to pay for their expenses ahead of time and get reimbursed after the Leadership Summit.
- Receipts and invoices must be provided to claim the travel grant.
- The number of WIE travel award recipients selected will depend on the availability of funds and number of applications received.
- Travel grants will range from $300 to $600

- The deadline for all applications will 20 June 2019, 12pm EST
- Award recipients will be notified by 1 July
- The application link is as follows: <https://forms.gle/j9rPmLQK5vQ37ggd8>

Selection Criteria:

The following criteria will be used in the selection process:

- Applicants must complete the entire application.
- Applicants must be IEEE IAS members.
- Preference will be given to applicants from local IAS chapters and IAS members within the area or region that a specific Leadership Summit will be taking place in.
- Non-members must apply for IEEE and IAS membership prior to submitting their grant application.
- If the number of applications exceed the number of travel grants available, preference will be given to IAS members who have not attended previous WIE events
